Schedule Regular Maintenance

For Schools

Regular and positive communication and interaction between you and families make partnering to support children's literacy learning possible.

Check in with Families

Ask families what their language and literacy goals are for their children.

Guide families in goal setting if needed.

Explain your language and literacy goals for children and families.

Encourage families to share information about their children's language and literacy learning.

Share objective data with families on how their children are progressing.

Describe how families can support their children's language and literacy goals.

Help families learn what their children need to know and be able to do in language and literacy.

Responses should build common understanding and promote joint action between home and school.
